As you may be aware, National Action for Healthy Kids is sponsoring a live, interactive web forum on "The Role of School Wellness in Creating High-Performing Schools" on Thursday, April 27 from 3:00-4:15 pm ET [12 to 1:15 Local Time]. The event offers our administrators several opportunities for involvement.

The web forum is designed to reach and engage school administrators – including superintendents, school board members, principals and AFHK State Teams. The broadcast features nationally recognized educational leaders in school reform and school wellness for an important discussion and Q&A session on questions such as:

1. How does school wellness contribute to a high-performing school?
2. How are school administrators creating a culture of wellness – and what is the pay-off for doing so?
3. How do school leaders build and maintain momentum for school wellness given all of the other priorities they must address?
4. How can wellness advocates help school administrators achieve their goals?

The live event is broadcast on the web and anyone with a computer and Internet access can participate. Although there is no cost to participate, registration is required. National Action for Healthy Kids is promoting the event with help from national Partner Steering Committee organizations whose members represent the target audience of school administrators.
